Dear Beloved People of FELCA,

Every time I open the news or scroll through my social media feed, I feel the weight of the world settle a little heavier on my shoulders. Maybe you do, too. It seems like everywhere we turn, we're confronted by conflict, heartbreak, and uncertainty.

The growing tension between the United States and Iran has stirred up old fears and new worries. We wonder what this means for our future, for our young people, for our world. Closer to home, we see a nation fraying at the seams—division, anger, and distrust tearing at the fabric of our communities. We grieve how hard it is for people to talk to one another across differences, how quick we are to assign blame, how deep the pain seems to go.

It's a lot. And it's okay to admit that.

But here's the truth I keep returning to, even in the midst of all this unrest: we are not alone. God has not abandoned us to chaos. Even in our most anxious moments, we are held by a love that does not waver.

Even as we experience all of these big feelings, I reflect on the gospel text from John that we heard in worship just a few weeks ago; in it, Jesus says, "Peace I leave with you; my peace I give to you. I do not give to you as the world gives. Do not let your hearts be troubled, and do not let them be afraid." (John 14:27)

Christ, our Emmanuel—God with us—knows what it is to live in a world like ours. He walked among the brokenhearted. He stood in the middle of conflict. He wept over division. He also brought us healing, gives us peace, and sustains us in all things. And he promises that he will be with us always, even to the end of the age.

The Holy Spirit breathes life into our troubled spirits, giving us the courage to keep showing up—for our neighbors, for our church, for the world. In the Spirit, we find strength for ministry in action, for prayer, for love that refuses to give up.

And our God—our good, gracious, merciful God—continues to pour out love upon us each and every day. Even when the world feels shaky, that love is our solid ground.

So if you're feeling tired or scared or overwhelmed, take heart. You are not alone. We belong to a God of resurrection. A God who brings peace in the storm. A God who is not finished with us yet.

Let us be people of hope—not because the world is easy, but because our God is faithful.

In Christ's peace,

Pastor June

FOR THOSE WHO MAY HAVE MISSED JUNE'S NEWSLETTER

WE ARE NOT SAYING GOODBYE BUT RATHER A GREAT BIG, FROM THE HEART, THANK YOU, FOR ALL YOUR YEARS OF DEDICATION, LOYALTY, COMMITMENT TO OUR YOUTH, AND THE SHARING OF YOUR GIFTS WITH US ALL!

WE LOVE YOU MISS JOANNE!

My Walk in Faith

As my walk in Christian Education comes to an end, I think of all the memories I have collected from our youth. Actually, my journey with the youth started in the sixties when I started teaching Sunday School.

One of the reasons I enjoyed this journey so much was I was always learning something new. There is so much information, technology, challenges, and opportunities that are available to our youth; and the understand of how each one is able to achieve with the gifts they have been given.

As we recently reviewed the ten commandments, one that I shared with the class of major change was Remember the Sabbath and Keep it Holy. Remember the days when malls were not open, sports were not scheduled...the day was meant for family, Starting with worshipping together.

Thank you Faith Family for allowing me to take this Walk.

Dear Members and Friends from Faith,

Once again, the coalition of churches that makes up the Whitehall Food Pantry, gratefully acknowledges your generous contributions of food and money throughout the year. With the increased cost of food and the reduction of available food from Second Harvest, your contributions are more important than ever.

Your continued support of the mission we share is what allows us to continue the work of sharing God's love. Our patrons are grateful and we, the board and volunteers of the Whitehall Food Pantry, are extremely thankful.

God Bless You!

A social statement...
FOR PEACE IN GOD'S WORLD

Adopted by more than a two-thirds majority vote (803-30) as a social statement of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America

We of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America share with the Church of Jesus Christ in all times and places the calling to be peacemakers. In the liturgy of Holy Communion, we pray “for the peace of the whole world,” asking, “Lord, have mercy.”

Our petition unites faith in the Triune God with our world's sufferings and hopes. At the end of a tumultuous and violent century, we share with people everywhere hope for a more peaceful and just world. With this statement on international peace, we strive to strengthen our global perspective as individual Christians and as a church body, in spite of strong currents that push us to turn in on ourselves.

As our world faces the new threats and opportunities of a changing time, we join with others in searching for what makes for peace. Most importantly, this statement recalls that the basis of the Church's peace-calling is in God's final peace, the peace of God's eternal reign. That calling is to proclaim the Gospel of God's final peace and to work for earthly peace. This statement understands earthly peace to mean relationships among and within nations that are just, harmonious, and free from war. It offers direction as we act to keep and to build earthly peace. We are grateful for the legacy of peacemaking given to our church by its predecessor communities.

We confess that too often we have fallen short in our responsibility for peace. We pray for forgiveness and for the faith that in love acts for earthly peace. We dedicate ourselves anew to pray and to work for peace in God's world.

THE GOD OF PEACE

The biblical narrative reveals God's resolve for peace. God created all things and gives unity, order, and purpose to a world of different creatures. All humans are created in the image of God (Genesis 1:27), made for life in community—with God, with others, and with the rest of creation. All humans also are bound together in sin. Sin, the rupture in our relation with God, profoundly disrupts creation. Centeredness in self, rather than in God, destroys the bonds of human community.

In bondage to sin, we fall captive to fear. Sin entangles our social structures. The Bible describes the power of sin: ingratitude, deceit, distrust, hatred, greed, envy, arrogance, sloth, corruption, debauchery, aggression, cruelty, oppression, and injustice. These violate community and generate killing and war. God nonetheless preserves the world, limiting the effects of sin, bringing good even out of evil and making earthly peace possible. Through the Law, the sovereign God of the nations holds all responsible for their neighbor, protects community, and blesses creation ever anew. God works often in hidden and inscrutable ways.

God's judgment comes upon a sinful humanity for failure to live together justly and peacefully, and calls all to repentance and faith in God. God's just wrath against all that causes chaos and destruction is in the service of the divine resolve for peace. God's resolve for peace was manifested in a new way through one people, chosen to be a blessing to all. Through the people of Israel, God acted so as to reconcile creation, promising a reign in which peace and justice will kiss each other (Psalm 85). God's promise is fulfilled in Jesus Christ. Rejected by humans, Jesus was confirmed by God who raised him from the dead in the power of the Holy Spirit, so that "on earth" there might be "peace" (Luke 2:14).

In bringing this peace,

- ♦ Jesus taught love for one's enemies;
- ♦ he reached out to the oppressed, downtrodden, and rejected of the earth;
- ♦ he prayed for his enemies while himself being rejected on the cross;

Above all, through Jesus' violent death, God redeemed the world, "for...while we were enemies, we were reconciled to God through the death of his Son" (Romans 5:10). This reconciling love of enemy discloses how deeply peace is rooted in who God is. The cross of Christ enacts God's resolve for peace once-for all.

"The God of peace" suffers with and for a suffering and sinful world so that all of creation will enjoy the loving community of Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. "The Gospel of peace" (Ephesians 6:15) heals our broken relationship with God, removing the ultimate root of violence and injustice. The Gospel breaks down the dividing walls of hostility among people, creates a new humanity—making Christ Jesus "our peace" (Ephesians 2:13- 22)—and promises the reconciliation of all things in Christ.

The peace of the Gospel is the final peace God intends for all. The baptized community already takes part in this peace through the Word and faith as it hopes for creation's fulfillment in "a new heaven and a new earth" where death and pain "will be no more" (Revelation 21:1, 4).

Make the Most of July 2025

July 2025 is a month that brings endless opportunities to celebrate, connect, and explore. From global festivals and sporting events to astrological influences and travel adventures, there's something for everyone to enjoy. Whether you're engaging in outdoor activities, reflecting under the stars, or diving into cultural traditions, July is a time to embrace life's vibrancy. Make it a month to remember by immersing yourself in the energy and excitement that July has to offer!

July is the heart of summer for the Northern Hemisphere, filled with outdoor adventures, cultural festivals, and vibrant energy. With its long days, exciting events, and global observances, July 2025 promises a mix of fun, reflection, and opportunities to connect with people and nature. Whether you're into sports, stargazing, or soaking in local traditions, this month offers something for everyone.

What Makes July Special?

July 2025 is a month of dynamism and inspiration. From the Fourth of July celebrations in the United States to international observances like World Population Day, July is packed with events that emphasize unity, awareness, and global collaboration. Sports fans can enjoy international tournaments and summer leagues, while adventurers can take advantage of the season to travel and explore the natural world. Pop culture influences also add a layer of excitement to this already eventful month.

July is smack-dab in the middle of the summer, often the hottest month of the year. And it's packed with an amazing amount of cute and wacky days to celebrate! July holidays and observances in 2025, of course, include the United States of America's birthday, as well as a whole host of silly days honoring various types of cookout meats and flavors of ice cream, and our favorite summertime fruits, watermelon and blueberries!

What big holidays are in July?

The major federal holiday celebrated in July is Independence Day, which is held annually on July 4. Independence Day is also commonly referred to as The 4th of July, the Fourth of July, and July 4th.

There's also the Islamic holiday of Ashura, which begins at sundown on Saturday, July 5, and lasts through the evening of Sunday, July 6, 2025. A day of gratitude and thankfulness, the holiday commemorates the day Allah saved Moses and his people from Pharaoh by parting the Red Sea. Ashura means "tenth" and is celebrated on the tenth day of Muharram, which is the first month in the Islamic lunar calendar.

July's birth flowers are the larkspur and water lily.

The Larkspur, especially white forms, generally indicates lightheartedness;

Pink: fickleness; purple: first love.

The water lily symbolizes purity of heart.

July Birthstone

The July birthstone is the ruby which is believed to protect its wearer from evil.

July Zodiac & Astrology

July's zodiac signs are Cancer (June 21 to July 22) and Leo (July 23 to August 22).
